Eighty English Miners Perish In Mine Blaze

Trapped In Gas Filled Inferno 1,400 Feet Down

(BULLETIN)

WORKSOP, Eng., Sept. 26.—(INS)—Eighty English miners perished today in a raging gas filled inferno 1,400 feet below the surface of the Cresswell colliery near Worksop.

The victims of one of the worst mine disasters in recent years were trapped in a shaft when a small fire in a rubber conveyor belt and explosion suddenly mushroomed into a death-producing wall of flame and gas.

One of ten survivors of the tragedy called it an underground "hell."

When the blaze was brought under control seven hours after it broke out, it was learned most of the victims were bunched together at a point three-and-a-half miles from the deepest part of the shaft.

Last Hope Cut Off

They had fled, running and crawling, the deadly fumes and a rapidly advancing wall of fire to what they believed would be a fire-free emergency exit. But they found that their last hope of survival had been cut off by a suffocating blanket of gaseous smoke that cut them down only yards from safety.

Most of the 21 bodies recovered by 2 p. m. (8 a. m. EST) were found directly under the mine's water tower.

Announcement that all hope had vanished for the trapped men, who comprised an overnight crew of about 90 repair and maintenance workers, was made at the pit entrance to a stunned crowd of thousands of distraught relatives, friends and fellow-miners of the victims.

Arrest Five In Gambling Ring Raids In State

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26.—(INS)—Five persons were taken into custody today as law officers smashed an alleged million dollar a week tri-state gambling ring in raids in Philadelphia and Easton, Pa.

Detectives raided a Germantown apartment and arrested a man and a woman accused as the principal distributors of the ring that sold one dollar chances on weekly automobile and cash prizes totaling about $40,000.

In another Philadelphia raid, the raiders seized 100,000 lottery tickets and records indicating the ring employed over 400 agents whose weekly revenue ran as high as $1,000,000.

AS MOON WAS TOTALLY ECLIPSED ON MONDAY NIGHT

—Acme Telephoto

CHICAGO—Astronomers at Adler Planetarium here caught this sequence shot of Monday night's eclipse of the moon with a 24 inch telescope coupled with a camera and a coelostat. The latter device follows the motion of an object across the sky and projects light from the object onto a fixed point. In the picture at the left, the moon is about to begin its eclipse; the center picture shows the moon partially eclipsed; the photo at the right shows the moon about to enter total eclipse which lasted about 46 minutes.

Former Police Lieutenant Assassinated In Chicago

By SEYMOUR FRIEDMAN

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—A special Chicago police detail was ordered to "seize every hoodlum on sight" today in a grim hunt for the gangland assassins who shot down a former police lieutenant on the eve of his scheduled appearance before Senate crime probes.

Police said Ex-Lieutenant William J. Drury had arranged by telephone yesterday to "tell the whole story" of crime syndicate operations and "name names and give everything he had" on Chicago's racket bosses.

Two hours later, two gunmen—apparently hidden in the garage behind Drury's home—killed him with four shotgun blasts and a stream of 45 caliber bullets fired through the windshield of his car.

Politician Also Slain

Still later last night Mervin Bas, a Republican ward politician also engaged in a one-man gambling inquiry, was shot and killed by two gunmen on a Northside intersection. He was not scheduled to appear before Senate investigators.

Police Commissioner John Pendergast assigned 58 picked detectives to patrol strategic spots in the "pickup on sight" drive and ordered:

"The job is to arrest every hoodlum, suspected hoodlum, or gangland hanger-on. We're playing no favorites. We want them all."

Austrian Reds Repelled By Police Action

VIENNA, Sept. 26.—(INS)—An estimated 5,000 Austrian Communists, armed with clubs and stones, stormed the Chancellery in Vienna today but were repelled by stern police action.

Several windows of the Chancellery were broken in the three-hour demonstration which was quelled only after police brought water hoses into play.

The demonstrators were protesting against proposed wage and hour adjustments which the Austrian Cabinet was deliberating in the Chancellery office.

Some 40,000 Viennese left their jobs, meanwhile, in a protest strike which could cripple the nation.

WITH U. S. TROOPS IN KOREA, Sept. 26.—(INS)—The first group of Communist-captured American soldiers to be freed in the Korean war were released from a jail in the vicinity of Yongdong today by American 24th Division tankmen.

A division spokesman said the group consisted of three soldiers who appeared "all in good shape" except that they were emaciated and hungry.

All asked for food and gulped down "C" rations.

The men were Sergeants First Class Frank R. Freede and Blaine E. Mackrall, both of the Second Division, 23rd Regiment, and Pvt. James R. Martin of the First Cavalry Division's Eighth Cavalry Regiment.

The town of Yongdong is 25 miles northwest of Kumchun and was recaptured today by 24th Division troops.

Fear 23 Dead In Air Crash Near Japan

TOKYO, Sept. 26.—(INS)—The crash of a C-54 Skymaster transport 400 yards off the Japanese coast today presumably took the lives of 23 of the 51 persons aboard. Only one body was found, but 22 others were missing and presumed dead.

The huge four-engine transport crashed minutes after taking off from an airbase in southwest Japan with 43 passengers and eight crew members aboard. Cause of the accident was not known.

The air force announced that 28 persons had been rescued, some of them injured. The air force refused to disclose the destination of the plane or the names of either survivors or victims.

Predicts Eisler To Be Dropped

BERLIN, Sept. 26.—(INS)—A top-ranking East German government source predicted today that Propaganda Minister Gerhardt Eisler will be dropped from the Communist hierarchy and shoved into political oblivion—if not arrested—within two months.

The informant said the former No. 1 Communist agent in the United States was considered guilty of defending party bigwigs who are to be tried soon for being too friendly with the west.

According to the informant, the bail-jumping Eisler is expected to be relegated to the professorship at Leipzig university which he originally had been scheduled to take after his flight from the United States.

Seek To Form Defense Plan For W. Europe

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(INS)—Foreign ministers of the 12 North Atlantic Council Nations met again today in New York in an effort to formulate a master plan for the defense of Western Europe.

The conferees hope to be able to draft a defense scheme capable of thwarting any possibly Russian aggression.

American Secretary of State Dean Acheson will preside at the meeting in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, where deputies of the foreign ministers have been hard at work for more than two weeks to devise a practical plan.

Near Agreement

Indications are that the deputies, who worked continuously for four hours yesterday, will be able to report to the full council a general agreement on all basic issues.

It appeared that the nations concerned also are in agreement on the future use of German troops in an eventual Western European aggression.

Say Proposals By Malik Are Propaganda

State Department Makes Quick Reply To "Peace" Move

By JOHN A. REICHMANN

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The United States wrote off as outworn propaganda Russia's latest "acceptance" of four proposals to end east-west tensions.

Newest in a series of "peace" plans was contained in the answers of Soviet UN delegate Jacob Malik to four questions presented by a "Maryland committee for peace."

Malik's Declarations

Malik declared:
1. That a meeting of top leaders of the U. S. and the USSR—presumably President Truman and Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin—is desirable.
2. That Russia will agree not to be the first to use the atomic bomb.
3. That he (Malik) favors a general disarmament agreement and the outlawing of atomic weapons under strict U. N. control and inspection.
4. That free idea should be exchanged between the east and the west.

Quick Reply Made

The state department quickly replied through its spokesman, Lincoln White. White referred to the answers as "Old Hat" and "Smacking of the Stockholm peace proposals."

White said he knew nothing of the background of the Maryland organization. The Stockholm proposals have been frequently denounced as Soviet propaganda, designed to give the worldwide impression that the western powers are the obstacles to peace.

"We've had enough of words," White continued. "What is needed more is action to give effect to these expressions of good intentions."

White recalled that Secretary of State Acheson, in Berkeley, Calif., last March had set forth the minimum that the Soviet union might do to relieve the present international tension.

U. S. Position Given

Answering Malik point by point, White said:

1. The U. S. had made clear that it will not sit down to a two-power meeting to settle matters involving other powers.
2. A promise not to be the first

Seoul Is Recaptured After Bitter Fighting In Streets

ACTION ON SEVERAL FRONTS IN KOREA

—Acme Telephoto

United Nations forces fought strong enemy rear guards inside liberated Seoul (inset map) while the bulk of Red forces fled to the northeast (open arrows). The U. S. 1st Cavalry Division drove past Chochiwon (1) and may have reached Chonan, just 24 miles from the 7th Division at Osan (2). This thrust isolates six Red divisions in Southwest Korea. Elsewhere around the old Pusan Beachhead, U. N. forces pushed ahead. South Koreans met little resistance while advancing on a line (3) from Yonghae to Hamchang. U. S. 24th Division captured Yongdong (4). 2nd Division captured Koehang (5) and 25th Division to the south swept 15 miles northwest of liberated Chingju. Only at Hyonpung (6) did the Reds still fight to hold an isolated bridgehead on the Nakdong river.

Gen. Bradley Hopeful Of "Early Victory" In Korea

By JOHN DRUCKENBROD

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The nation's number one active soldier said that he is hopeful today of an "early victory" in Korea but left the American people to their own guesses on when it will be realized.

General of the Army Omar N. Bradley declined the role of prophet in asserting bluntly that "no one can foresee how long it (victory in Korea) will take."

Opposes Raising Age Limit

The chairman of the joint chiefs of staff warned, at the same time, that a Korean victory will not by itself insure world peace.

Meanwhile, Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey declared that veterans and men with dependents will have to be drafted to meet President Truman's goal of a three-year war.

Schuman To Fly Back To Paris Friday

FLUSHING MEADOW, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Foreign Minister Schuman of France decided today to cut short his stay at the U. N. Assembly and fly back to Paris Friday to cope with a rapidly growing crisis on German rearmament.

Reliable sources told International News Service that Defense Minister Jules Moch in his report to the Cabinet flatly opposed any compromise on the Anglo-American plan for bringing German divisions into the projected European army against aggression.

It is understood that the issue will be tossed into the French Parliament on October 15. But Schuman's position is being shaken by Moch to the extent that the foreign minister is cancelling all plans in order to return to Paris on Friday. He eliminated all mention of German rearmament from today's speech to the U. N. Assembly.

U. S. Forces In Southeast Are Moving Fast

Two U. S. Army Divisions Reported Nearing Linkup

BULLETIN

TOKYO, Sept. 27.—(Wednesday)—(INS)—A linkup of United Nations forces 34 miles south of Suwon was announced today by the Tenth Corps chief of staff in Korea.

By BERNARD KAPLAN

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

SEOUL, Sept. 26.—Disorganized Communist troops, leaving rearguard units behind to cover their retreat, fled north from smouldering Seoul today under relentless hammering by American artillery and planes.

Except for some scattered enemy pockets remaining to be mopped up in the city's north section, Korea's ancient capital, 27 air miles below the North Korean 38th parallel border, was secure in the hands of its American liberators.

Recapture of the city of 1,500,000 inhabitants was announced in a communique, timed officially at midnight Monday and issued by Maj. Gen. Edward M. Almond's Tenth Corps.

(Editor's note: This communique was first transmitted to the world through Tokyo where it was timed at 2:45 Tuesday afternoon (12:45 a. m. Tuesday EST). Its issuance followed a special announcement by Gen. Douglas MacArthur that Seoul had been emancipated from the Red invaders.)

Grimy-faced leathernecks and GIs, who had fought and won the Seoul battle in whirlwind fashion, greeted their field commander's victory announcement with broad smiles.

May Shorten War

U. S. military officers in the battered capital expressed the view that the Korean war may come to an end sooner than anyone dared to hope only eleven days ago when the marines made the first amphibious landings at Seoul's port of Inchon.

It took the First Marine and Second Army Division troops, aided by South Korean units, only seven and a half hours to capture the blazing center of Seoul Monday.

And within another ten hours Korea's foremost metropolis was firmly under the control of the United Nations forces.

An estimated six North Korean regiments—five of infantry and one of tanks—were overwhelmed. Their surviving elements began

The spot in the yard that is barren and bare the place that you want to improve, you can help pretty soon with a shrub or a tree, for nature soon gets in the groove, when shrubs go to sleep for the long winter months and they'll never notice the trick, if you dig some of them up and change where they live, it isn't so much of a trick. So get ready my friend if transplanting you'd do, for planting trees' coming this way, when the roses or shrubs or the trees you can move, it's 68 today.

Man In Hospital Identifies Man Who Wounded Him

WELLESLEY, Mass., Sept. 26.—(INS)—A Belmont business executive was identified today in Newton-Wellesley hospital by a former Larksville, Pa., and Kingston, La. bridegroom as the man who shot him in a love quarrel over his bride.

Alan G. Richards, 55, was brought face-to-face at the hospital with Joseph Krul, 33, now of Belmont, whom he allegedly shot three times in the abdomen and a patch of handage over his forehead, was handcuffed to two police officers who escorted him to Krul's cot. Richards displayed no emotion as he said:

"Hi, Joe."

Krul did not reply. He proceeded to name Richards and accused him of shooting him yesterday morning near Babson Institute, where Krul, a war veteran, is a second year student.

A few minutes later Richards appeared in Dedham district court and was held without bail on a charge of assault with intent to murder. Bail was denied on the recommendation of District Attorney Edmund R. Dewing, who told Judge Gilbert W. Cox:

"A woman's life may be in jeopardy if this man is released on bail. I think it would be unfair to the public to have him released on bail."

The case was continued until October 10 and Richards was remanded to Dedham jail.

Krul and his bride of two months, Mrs. Arlene Blunt Krul, told authorities the shooting climaxed a two-month campaign by Richards to get her to run away with him and to get back ardent love letters the executive wrote to her before her marriage.

"The couple met at Castle Point hospital, Beacon, N. Y., where Krul underwent treatment for tuberculosis contracted during war service in Africa. Mrs. Krul was employed at the hospital as an occupation therapist a task she now performs at the Bedford (Va.) hospital.

Richards' wife, Mary, also 55, is a prominent clubwoman. They have a married daughter living in California.

MURDER TRIAL STARTS

BUTLER, Pa., Sept. 26.—A jury of 14 was selected Monday to hear the murder trial of Molly M. Parks, 21-year-old accused slayer of her Coast Guard veteran husband, John C. Parks, 25.

Parks was killed by a rifle bullet last May 23 in the couple's home in Allegheny township. Mrs. Parks is accused of firing the shot that entered her husband's leg, severing an artery.

Parks bled to death before medical aid could reach him.

million-man armed force unless the age limit is raised above 25 or rejections and deferments are reduced.

The draft director simultaneously announced his opposition to raising the present 25-year-old age limit because, he said, industrial production and scientific development would be crippled, and older men "are not as good physically."

Bradley, in an address before the Federal Bar association, insisted that international tranquility can be guaranteed only by world respect for, and strict enforcement of, international law.

Can Only Lead To War

Disarmament and appeasement, the five-star general claimed, can only lead to war.

A lasting world peace, Bradley added, will require mobilization of free peoples into a strong military force capable of resisting aggression and "demanding" respect for international law.

It was in this connection that Bradley parenthetically expressed his hopes for an early Korean victory but refused to make a positive prediction of the date.

Bradley declared that "in spite of our hopes for early victory in Korea—and no one can foresee how long it will take"—a lasting peace must be based on respect and enforcement of international law.

Can Be Achieved

In a copywritten interview published by the U. S. News and World Report magazine, Hershey said that he believes a three-million-man armed force can be achieved under present age limits if rejections and deferments are slashed.

Otherwise, he added, "we would have to change the regulations on dependency and secure the repeal of the restrictions against inducting veterans under 26 years of age."

Inmate Attacks Superintendent Of Lima Hospital

LIMA, O., Sept. 26.—(INS)—A 38-year-old inmate of the Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane today attacked and seriously wounded Dr. R. E. Bushong, the 60-year-old hospital superintendent.

The attack came as Dr. Bushong entered the hospital's kitchen to confer with the hospital chef. The inmate, identified as William Markley, approached Dr. Bushong from the rear with a paring knife he was using to peel potatoes.

Before he could be restrained, Markley slashed the chin and chest of the hospital superintendent. Twenty-eight stitches were required to sew up the gash.

Markley was sentenced originally from Toledo to the Mansfield Men's Reformatory in 1939 for auto theft. His term was 10 to 25 years. After being charged with parole violation, Markley entered Ohio Penitentiary in 1939 and was transferred from Columbus to the Lima State hospital on July 26 of last year.

Supreme Court Cancels Hearing On Nelsons Petition

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 26.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Supreme Court today cancelled a hearing on the petition of Steve Nelson, head of the Communist party in western Pennsylvania, for release from jail.

Nelson's plea for a writ of habeas corpus will be decided on the basis of a petition, an answer and the record filed by the principals in the case. Arguments scheduled to be heard today by the court were eliminated.

Nelson has been in jail three weeks on a charge of sedition filed by Judge Michael A. Musmanno, candidate for lieutenant governor. His bond first was set at $10,000, then raised to $100,000 and lowered to $50,000.

Nelson claims the figure is illegal and unconstitutional. District Attorney William S. Rahauser charges that Nelson's record justifies the high bond.

LITTLE-JACKSON EXCHANGE VOWS

A gown of white satin and Chantilly lace was worn by Miss Helen Esther Little as she was united in marriage with Robert Bell Jackson, Jr., Friday, September 22.

Dr. W. D. Millen heard the exchange of wedding vows in the First United Presbyterian church of Ellwood City at 7:30 p.m. Ferns, palms and white gladioli decorated the church altar for the double ring ceremony.

Miss Little is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ralph Little of Todd avenue, Ellwood City, and Mr. Jackson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bell Jackson, Sr., R. D. 1, New Galilee.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride's gown was fashioned with a sheer yoke edged with a Chantilly lace bertha. Long sleeves tapered to points at the wrists and the full skirt terminated in a long train. Her fingertip veil of net was caught up in a lace bandeau and she wore pearls, the groom's gift. A white orchid and streamers adorned the white Bible which she carried.

Miss Peggy Baird attended the bride as maid of honor. She was attired in a chartreuse taffeta gown, styled with cap sleeves, fitted bodice and flared skirt. She carried a bouquet of bronze mums.

Raymond Jackson served his brother as best man. Ushers were George Jackson, cousin of the groom from Mahoningtown, and James Little, cousin of the bride from Pittsburgh.

Miss Mary Alice McCowin, organist, accompanied Miss Jean Whitaker of Pittsburgh as she sang several nuptial selections.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church basement, with a three-tiered cake centering the table. Aides included Mrs. Emmett Liebenorfer, Mrs. Frank Potter, Mrs. Floyd Miesel and Mrs. William Brenneman.

The young couple later departed for a honeymoon to Canada and upon their return will reside at R. D. 1, New Galilee.

Defense Plans Cause Speculation

Disclosure of U. S. Roving Ambassador Philip C. Jessup that Atlantic Defense Pact plans for partial utilization of German manpower rules out re-creation of a German general staff capable of considerable speculation in diplomatic circles today.

This is based upon the knowledge that traditionally the German officer corps and the rank and file officer operate most effectively on an autonomous basis.

In modern times, German manpower never has been subjected to any foreign or international authority. Many observers have grave doubts that a German military establishment under any command other than one representative of the old-line Prussian Junkers' war officers school could be in the least effective.

The individualistic military concept that characterizes the German system is more or less true of all Europe.

Obvious from Beginning
In the First World War, the inability of Austro-Hungarian regiments to integrate themselves with other units of the central powers was obvious from the beginning.

There were, of the highest commands, Austrian archdukes who bore military titles did not take kindly to any absorption of their forces into the overall German army.

In the second European conflict, the same was true or even less illustrious army units than those of the Emperor Franz Josef.

There were Romanian contingents, for example, that were fiercely individualistic. Staff officers in gaudy, opera bouffe uniforms laden with gold braid and crimson sashes sometimes were the object of derision. But they stoutly refused to be swallowed up in the mass.

Italian troops, too, maintained their personalities despite all efforts of hard-driving field commanders like Field Marshal Erwin Rommel to utilize them to his own and Germany's best advantage.

This was particularly so in the case of the Italian air force.

Its numbers were not great but its fliers had few peers in the early days of the Second World War.

Healthy Respect
British airmen who encountered them, and American pilots who ran into the Italians in North Africa, Sardinia and Sicily, came to feel a healthy respect indeed for the Italians.

They were credited with many of the feints and tricky maneuvers that later were adopted, modified and improved by men of the U. S. air force until complete ascendancy over the foe became a matter of record and performance and not merely one of hope.

Thus, the question arises of how the western defense command feels it can eliminate traditional German militaristic nationalism and make the German force part of a coordinated team devoted to preservation of peace and discouragement of Soviet aggression.

If the German people were represented at the United Nations—a clear impossibility until a peace treaty is signed and the present world situation lifted out of cynicism and uncertainty into genuine cooperation—some attractive inducement might be offered.

If Germans were united—another obvious chimera while Russia remains devoted to the destructive mission of splitting the world in two—another appeal could present itself.

Issue May Settle Down
Perhaps the issue will settle down at least into a vigorous attempt by the western world to arouse the western Germans to full realization of their peril, with an East German police army now estimated at a quarter of a million men under arms and the people under Soviet domination being indoctrinated daily in a war schooling.

At best, however, this would be a long and difficult task. It will mean convincing the West Germans—defeated twice in a generation and disillusioned as any such people might well be—that their hope and salvation is to abandon military if not national sovereignty for the first time in their lives and take their place as part of a team.

This will mean a thorough overhaul of the entire national consciousness. Except in war and fighting for itself, Germany does not have the "team" mentality. Its people are at their best on their own—chessplayers rather than the components of baseball nines.

Folks Of Fame
Gilda Gray, dancer and screen actress, was born in Krakow, Poland, but educated in Milwaukee, Wis. She became a cabaret dancer. She was later in "Ziegfeld Follies" and "Shubert Gaieties." Her first screen appearance was in "Devil Dancer," then in "Cabaret," "Aloma of the South Seas" and "Lawful Larceny." "Rose Marie" was her last picture listed. Surely you remember her name.

John Knox was a Scottish reformer and historian. Born in circa 1505, he was first a priest of the Roman Catholic church, but later was converted to Protestantism. Anxious to gain Scotland to the reformation movement, he became a preacher. When Mary Queen of Scots was crowned he fled to Europe, settling in Geneva, where he wrote "First Blast of the Trumpet Against the Monstrous Regiment of Women." Back in Scotland he constantly criticized the queen and her regime but took no part in politics. He wrote his "History of the Reformation" at this time. After Mary's flight to England, Protestantism became the religion of Scotland. He died in Edinburgh, November 24, 1572.

'OVER THE RIVER, AND INTO THE TREES'

"Home Sweet Home"

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Is home sweet home really home sweet home?

I have been back from a long trip for a full day now, and I am beginning to doubt it.

My "welcome" began when, conscientious hired hand that I am, I showed up at my office in the Lincoln building on 42nd street just as the 9 a. m. commuters' trains arrived in Grand Central station across the street.

I took my time walking down the hall, sort of savoring the welcome home I was sure I was going to get from all the staff in the office.

I opened the door expecting to be greeted by a giant floral horse-shoe with a ribbon on it reading "Good To Have You Back," a five-pound box of bonbons on my desk, hearty handshakes and "Boy, you're looking good!" from everyone.

"What Could She Do for Me?" I opened the door and the only person there was a receptionist whose face was perfectly strange to me.

I said good morning, and she answered with a good morning and asked what she could do for me. I told her my name was McLemore.

I scaled the stool and started going through the mail stacked on my desk. When I finished I figured out that the only two companies in the country to whom I didn't owe money were National Carborundum and Gossard Corset. All the others had sent those half cut-half stem letters hinting that I had better pull myself together and pay up or else.

There was a letter from the income tax people revealing a tremendous interest in my welfare during the year 1947. There were three more from the same source, postmarked later than the first one opened, evincing an even greater interest as to what I was up to in 1947. I can tell 'em one thing right here—one of the things I was doing in 1947 was wondering how to root up enough money to pay my income tax.

There were letters demanding payment for back taxes, and letters asking for taxes about due.

By this time I had been around the office long enough to have cigarettes bummed off me, and to lose matching pennies and have to buy everybody coffee.

I couldn't help thinking how nice it would be to be back walking down a side street in Damascus where no one knew me and, better yet, the postman couldn't find me with a bloodhound and a pair of handcarved binoculars. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

All I know is that for every Bert Parks with a list of prizes there are two thousand callers with a list of favors they'd like done.

The way some people use the telephone, the instrument should be in a box marked "break glass in case of emergency. $50 fine for needless calls."

Our farmer is going to find that people who wouldn't walk a quarter of a mile to look at his cows won't have to be urged to call up to borrow his milking machine.

A Free Translation

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 26.—Truth will out, and I vow that the following is a free but veracious translation of what took place recently before the House Interstate and Commerce Committee which was investigating trade between the Marshall plan countries and the Iron Curtain countries:

CHAIRMAN: This meeting of the Foreign Giveaway Program is now in order. The witness will give his name and qualifications—also his address.

WITNESS: My name is Daniel D. Dilemma. I am a qualified expert in giving away money to foreigners.

CHAIRMAN: Where do you live, Mr. Dilemma?

WITNESS: I live on the Street that is paved with Good Intentions.

CHAIRMAN: Is it your own money that you give away, Mr. Dilemma?

WITNESS: Goodness no, Mr. Chairman. I'm not that crazy. I'm trustee for a number of wealthy nieces and nephews. I give their money away.

CHAIRMAN: Isn't that a pretty punk way to treat your relatives?

WITNESS: Oh, I dunno. Uncle Sam does it. The Government does it. You Congressmen do it.

CHAIRMAN: Get on with your testimony, Mr. Dilemma. Do you give away money to any old foreigner?

WITNESS: Oh, no. I just give it away to nice foreigners—people like myself. But you'd be surprised—some awfully funny things happen.

CHAIRMAN: Such as?

WITNESS: I give money to nice people, but they buy things from bad people. The end result is—the bad people eventually get my money although that's the last thing I ever wanted to happen. I guess you know where the Street of Good Intentions leads to.

CHAIRMAN: Stick to the testimony, Mr. Dilemma. And be more specific.

How The Money Is Spent
WITNESS: Okay. The other day I gave money to an Englishman, but he used it to buy some timber from a Russian. Then the Russian went out and bought a gun with my money.

CHAIRMAN: This Committee is perfectly astonished to hear it. Do things like that really happen in international trade? Proceed, Mr. Dilemma.

WITNESS: You ain't heard nothin' yet, Mr. Chairman. The Russian used the gun, bought with my own money, to threaten my life. I, therefore, had to buy myself a gun for self-protection. I also asked the Englishman to stop doing business with the Russian.

CHAIRMAN: That's far enough. Of course the Englishman instantly agreed?

WITNESS: Nope. He became rather huffy. He insisted upon his inalienable right to do business where he could make the best bargains. He even asked me for money in order to do more business with Russia.

CHAIRMAN: And you naturally refused.

Of Course I Didn't
WITNESS: Who—me? I'm an expert on giving away money. Of course I didn't refuse. I not only gave him money, I also gave him a gun to defend himself from the Russian. In fact, the Englishman and I formed a mutual defense pact.

CHAIRMAN: Ah! Then everything's going to be all right, eh?

WITNESS: Well, I dunno. That same night the Russian came prowling around my back door and I called upon the Englishman to help. He promised to send token aid, but by the time it came I'd been badly wounded and had the Red on the run. I don't mean to hang my whole testimony on the Englishman. I could tell the same stories about a Frenchman, a Belgian, an Italian and...

CHAIRMAN: Never mind, Mr. Dilemma. A foreign giveaway program can get pretty complicated, eh?

Pathetic Part About It
WITNESS: I'm doing it all for the best, Mr. Chairman.

CHAIRMAN: Yes, that's the pathetic part about it. Your generosity may be right in principle, but is it right in practice? Why don't you just wash out the whole program?

WITNESS: Oh, I couldn't do that, Mr. Chairman. Somebody might call me an isolationist. Somebody might say that I was unwilling to spend money instead of blood to stop the march of Communism. Besides, all those nice foreigners to whom I give money hold a terrible threat over my head.

CHAIRMAN: A threat? What sort of threat?

WITNESS: They say if I stop giving them money, they'll stop being nice people. They threaten to become bad just like Russian.

CHAIRMAN: You sure are in a heck of a fix, Mr. Dilemma. Thank you for your testimony. Next witness!

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

A lot of people have a peculiar idea of what constitutes PROGRESS.

Like, for instance, the "very successful" young executive who had just flown in from Los Angeles and was having lunch with me.

"Isn't it wonderful?" he exclaimed as he gulped down another mouthful of steak. "Just imagine, I'm only half way from the Pacific to the Atlantic! That is PROGRESS! That is CIVILIZATION! My gosh, what will we humans do next?"

I agreed with him that he had certainly made a fast trip. "What did you see on the way?" I asked.

"Who can see anything at that speed?" he retorted. "And, anyway, we flew so high that houses looked just like little dots and you couldn't see people at all."

"I saw a few," he said. "Half the time and the rest of the time I slept."

I asked him why he was in such a hurry to get East. Was it a business appointment? Was it an emergency?

Oh, no, he said, his business appointment wasn't for two days yet and there certainly was no emergency. Except that he wanted to crowd in as much fun as possible while he was in New York.

Well, I remembered the two times I had flown to the Pacific Coast.

Both times it WAS an emergency.

Both times it was a funeral. Both times it was for the funeral of a man who had died from heart trouble—and both had succumbed to heart trouble on account of too much PROGRESS.

One was a highly successful known.

Eight Parties
Are On BallotSplinter Parties
To Clutter Ballot

If you thought your ballot on November would have only the Republican and Democratic nominees listed on November 7 you have another guess coming. There will be eight parties listed all of them with candidates and at least four of them splinter parties that will clutter the ballot up beautifully and add to the work of the election boards.

It was to be expected there would be four, Republican, Democratic, Prohibitionist, and Socialist. To them add the G.I.'s Against Communism, Industrial Government, Militant Workers, and Progressive.

The G.I.'s Against Communism is self explanatory. The Progressive Party is what is left of the pink ticket headed in 1948 by Henry A. Wallace. But will somebody explain what the Industrial Government Party stands for and while you're at it add the Militant Workers.

All of them have candidates for the major statewide offices but none for Congress or the General Assembly.

The gubernatorial candidate of the Prohibitionist party is a former New Castle man, the Reverend Richard R. Blews, well known here. Presently he is located in Sharon where he is the pastor of a Free Methodist church.

Will A. Eakin, chief clerk to the County Commissioners has received the official certification of the ballot from the State Bureau of Elections. With this in hand the ballots can now be printed.

The County Commissioners are ready to turn over the county farmhouse for a tuberculosis isolation ward and are now waiting upon the architect to come up with plans for the remodeling of the home.

Flag-Raising At
Third U.P. Church

Pupils of the Bible school of Third United Presbyterian church had a combined rally day and flag-raising ceremony Sunday morning, when the entire school assembled on the church grounds at the flag pole. At 10 o'clock a fitting program was presented, being sponsored by pupils of the Daily Vacation Bible school of the past season.

The Scriptural lesson was in charge of the primary department, while motion songs were offered by the beginners' group.

Mrs. Howard Burdette, who spoke in behalf of her mother, Mrs. Ed. Mitchell, presented the flag. The gift was presented in memory of Ed. Mitchell, a former member of the congregation and a Spanish-American War veteran. After acceptance of the flag by Mrs. P. D. Gibson, the Bible school superintendent, a color-guard, composed of Findley Boyd, Jr., John Sherwood, and Ronald Wyman, of the junior department, raised the colors on the flag-pole while the assembled group stood at attention.

After a salute to the flag and the singing of "America," Joseph Hahn, who was accompanist, played "America the Beautiful" as a trumpet solo. Fitting remarks were made by Dr. J. Paul Graham, pastor of the church, who also offered the dedicatory prayer. Members of the group went back to class singing "Onward Christian Soldiers."

Junior department pupils of the Bible school have assumed the responsibility of caring for the flag and raising it at suitable times.

Church Women To Get Instructions

Members of the "Prayer Cells" and other leaders of women of Protestant church congregations in this district will meet Saturday, September 30, between 10 and 11 a. m. in the Y.W.C.A. At that time members of the local panel of the United Council of Church Women, of which Mrs. J. F. Rentz is chairman, will give instructions and material for the ecumenical register.

Saturday's meeting is for key women of the churches who were unable to attend the planning meeting for the ecumenical register of Lawrence county last Tuesday in Epworth Methodist church.

The registration for women will be conducted during the week of October 8-15. The local panel of the United Council of Church Women is eager to have every Christian woman in Lawrence county register. In that way she will show her willingness to stand up and be counted for Christ.

Grangers Hear Dr. W. Gordon

Over 200 grangers representing Lawrence County Pomona Grange, assembled Sunday evening in First Baptist church, to hear Dr. Will Gordon, interim pastor, preach an effective sermon on "The Religion of Brotherhood."

The occasion for the mass assemblage of the granger workers was the annual "Go to church Sunday" which is observed by the rural residents. The grange men and women sat in a body in the church auditorium, with the officers of the organization assembled at the front of the auditorium.

Rev. Fred Cochran, county chaplain assisted in the service, by reading the Scriptures and offering Prayer. Special music was provided during the service by the church choir and musicians.

Dr. Gordon aptly used the parable of the Good Samaritan in the New Testament as a basis for his well chosen remarks which were delivered to the audience. He pointed out that the Samaritan could not have helped this unfortunate man of another race without the assistance of the innkeeper. The inn represented our present day hospitals, asylums, home for the aged and other agencies which have been founded within these walls to feed and care for the wounded and needy men and women with the finest skills of modern science to lend aid to the suffering humanity.

The speaker concluded that the Samaritan had aided a man of another race and showed that there is no human race so dark as racial racism which runs rife and brings such an undertone of irritation throughout the world.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Cedric Adams was having a soda in a Minneapolis drugstore when a man confounded the pharmacist by demanding a concoction that would make his eyes sore and red. "You must be slightly nuts," decided the clerk. "Not at all," insisted the customer. "Do you think I want all my friends to know I don't own a television set?"

M. Musselman, in his amusing book, "It Took Nine Tailors," tells about the time an important studio conference called by Charlie Chaplin was interrupted by the buzzing of a particularly large and active horsefly. After missing it with several wild swipes, Chaplin lost his patience and called for a swatter. He continued the discussion, with the swatter poised for action. At last the fly settled on a table directly in front of him and Chaplin tensed for the kill. Slowly he raised the swatter. Just as he was about to deliver the death blow, however, he deliberately lowered his weapon and allowed the fly to escape. "For Heaven's sake," blurted someone, "Why didn't you swat it?" Chaplin shrugged his shoulders and pointed out: "It wasn't the same fly."

State Capitol Attention Now Focused On Reds

Report 2400 Card Carrying Communists In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Sept. 26.—(INS)—Anti-Communist legislation approved by Congress over President Truman's veto focuses attention on the activities of Reds in Pennsylvania. The Federal Bureau of Investigation has reported at least 2,400 "card carrying" Communists in Pennsylvania, presumably active for the most part in the heavy industrial and manufacturing areas. State police headquarters guards diligently a little-known "Red File" and neither seeks nor gives publicity on the contents. The 2,400 card carriers known to the FBI undoubtedly are supplemented by others whose activities have escaped notice. The last known record of those who could be called Communist sympathizers was compiled in 1940 when the Reds ran Earl Browder for President. According to Commonwealth Secretary Gene D. Smith, more than 8,000 persons of voting age signed petitions assuring Browder a place on the ballot. Browder, however, polled only about 4500 votes. The last time a Communist ran for governor in Pennsylvania was 1938 when Ella Bloor Omholt picked up only 1273 votes.

The State Farm Show in January will feature an exhibit showing the advantages of selective breeding and scientific feeding in raising poultry. It will show that down through the years of the program, the weight of chickens has increased, flavor has improved and eggs have become larger. The Agriculture Department's size of egg crates has been expanded to accommodate the larger eggs now being produced.

When the 1951 session of the General Assembly convenes, the usual presiding officers will not travel the House and Senate to order. In the Senate, Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, the retiring lieutenant governor, is on duty as commandant of the 28th Division in Indiana and his duties will be performed by Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, the Senate president pro tempore. In the House, Chief Clerk William Habbysaw will call the House to order because the term of the speaker for the past two years Rep. Herbert P. Sarge, will have expired by January. Habbysaw will preside until a new speaker is elected. If Republicans control the House, Sarge is slated for another term. If the Democrats win, the honor may go to Rep. Hiram G. Andrews, an Iowa-born ex-newsman and veteran Democrat strategist who has been minority leader for the past two sessions. In the Senate, if Democrats win in statewide balloting, the next presiding officer will be Allegheny county Judge Michael A. Musmanno, his party's choice for lieutenant governor while should the GOP extend its control the president will be Sen. Lloyd H. Wood who has represented Montgomery county in the Senate 11 years.

has received a report from the rheumatic fever division showing that in two years ended May 31, state-operated clinics across Pennsylvania examined 3530 new patients referred by family physicians and re-examined 606 others. The report, compiled by Dr. Mary L. Richardson, said 1638 cases were diagnosed as heart disease and 218 others as congenital heart disease. There was no evidence of any ailment in the other cases. Clinic officials are confined by law to diagnosis and consultation. There is no fee for the examination for persons under 21 years of age.

Night Mail Goes Much Sooner Now

Final outgoing mails leave considerably earlier under eastern standard time than they did while daylight saving time was in force. Postmaster William R. Hanna stated today, and local mailers are advised that they should get their mail into the post office earlier if they want their mail to get on its way on time.

Eastbound mail must be in the office by 9 p. m. in order to insure proper handling, as the last mail goes out of the post office at 9:30 p. m. for the east. Westbound mail must be in by 10 o'clock, the last mail for the west leaving the office at 10:55 p. m.

Eleventh hour mailers with important mail who wish it to get into the last shipment, should call attention of the clerk on duty to this fact, the postmaster states.

Wage Committee To Meet On October 4-5

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 26.—(INS)—Members of the CIO-United Steelworkers international wage policy committee will meet in Atlantic City Oct. 4-5 to decide the amount of wage increases the union will seek from the nation's steel industry.

In all likelihood the committee will meet Oct. 9 with representatives of the steel industry in contract re-opening talks. The union last week asked 1,400 basic steel producers to advance contract negotiations to that date "in the national interest".

City Hall

City Receives State Funds

Other News Of Council Meeting

During councilmanic session on Monday, the city received from the state of Pennsylvania $7,504.02 as the city's allotment from the tax on foreign fire insurance premiums. Inasmuch as the city's finances for this year are growing low, the money was well received and, by motion of Finance Minister A. A. Hoyland, was earmarked for general revenue, or general operating expenses.

Ask Rent Control

Donald Brown and Richard Bidle, representing Local 3123, CIO of the Shenango Pottery asked city council to extend rent control to prevent increased rent which would cause hardship.

After the communication was read Mayor John Haven said he understood congress would consider this subject first on the agenda when it reconvenes, hence no action was taken.

Oppose Library Closing

PTA of Lincoln-Garfield school opposed closing of the South Side library, due to an increase in rent. Solicitor Robert White told council it had the power to act.

Councilman Medure presented a motion, which passed, and which forwards the communication to the library board, which means council don't want the library closed.

Gas Line Application

Request of the M. L. & H. company to lay a four-inch gas main was referred to Engineer John Street for investigation and report. The fine would be laid from Cascade street into Shenango township.

Ray Richards presented his resignation as a city policeman due to injuries received while on duty. He asked that he be retired on pension.

Mayor John F. Haven said that Richards had been a good policeman. He recommended Richards' request be granted, which was done.

Paving Asked

A petition received and read, requested that Superior street between West avenue and Taylor street, be paved with amiesite. It was referred to the city engineer.

Kennedy Examined

According to reports in city hall, City Controller Charles A. Kennedy, who served during World War II, and who is on reserve, took a physical examination in Pittsburgh late last week. It will be a week or two before he is notified as to whether or not his physical condition permits induction. Should he be inducted into service it will be necessary for council to appoint someone to act in his place as controller.

Railroadman

We don't know the destination of the Pennsylvania Railroad car that's carrying Harold Layman in the picture above...but we do know that many freight cars, on many railroads, are needed to deliver the materials and supplies bought by Bell Telephone every month.

Thus railroadmen, too, are among the many skilled people whose jobs depend, in part, on Bell Telephone purchases.

Any way you look at it, the successful operation of the telephone business means a great deal to the steady employment of a great many Pennsylvanians, both in and out of the telephone industry.

Steel Mills Will Produce Record Amount Of Ingots

NEW YORK, Sept. 26—(INS)—The American Iron and Steel Institute said today that the nation's steel mills are geared to produce the greatest amount of ingots and steel for castings this week than for any similar period in all its history.

With operations slated at 100 and 7-10ths per cent of capacity, the institute calculated that the industry will turn out 1,942,200 tons of steel. This is a rise of 3,800 tons from the preceding week and compares with the previous record figure of 1,940,600 tons set in the week of May 22 last.

The operating rate a week ago was 100 and 4-10ths per cent of capacity, and a year ago at this time the industry operated at 84 and 6-10ths per cent of capacity.

U. S. Asks For Decision On 38th Parallel

(BULLETIN)
FLUSHING MEADOW, N. Y., Sept. 26.—(INS)—The United States moved today to get General Assembly action by Friday on crossing the 38th parallel and shaping the future policy of Korea as United Nations forces linked up below Seoul.

A U.S. spokesman indicated that the American delegation to U.N., headed by Secretary of State Acheson, decided at a meeting in its Manhattan offices that the North Korean makes the formation of a comprehensive Korean policy by United Nations "a matter of urgency."

Seek To Emulate Lunt And Fontaine

ABOARD THE QUEEN MARY, Sept. 26.—(INS)—Red Harrison and Lilli Palmer are enroute to New York for the big gamble of their theatrical lives to see whether they can emulate the beloved Lunt and Fontaine as a successful husband and wife stage team.

Harrison, due to arrive in the United States with Lilli tomorrow, put it this way:

"There is no reason why married couples should necessarily play opposite each other. In fact, I think it is a mistake to try unless their stage personalities are complementary. But I have a feeling Lilli and I may just about bring off that balance which makes good theater."

Red and Lilli already have been rehearsing their parts for the new John Van Druten comedy "Bell, Book and Candle," which is scheduled to open in New York on November 14.

It is the first time that they have played opposite each other on the stage, although Lilli had a minor part in a London play in 1941, when Diana Wynyard played the feminine lead opposite Rex Harrison.

Over 19,000,000 Population Gain During Ten Years

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 26.—A 9,000,000 gain since 1940 in population at ages 25 to 64, the main source of industrial and agricultural manpower, places the United States in a better position than ever before to expand its productivity for national defense, according to the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company.

The increase at these ages has been greater for women than men. Accordingly, in the event of a protracted emergency, it is considered likely that women will enter the labor force in greater numbers than during World War II.

The overall increase of more than 19,000,000 in population during the ten years, the statisticians report, was not shared equally by all age groups. The largest increases are at the young and at the more advanced ages.

Due to the soaring birth rates during the war and immediate postwar years, the population under age 5 increased one half, and at ages 5 to 9 by one fourth. Source data employed by the statisticians in their computations are from Census Bureau reports.

MAY CHANGE METHODS

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 26.—(INS)—A new self-centering roll that may revolutionize conveying methods has been built into working models by E. T. Lorig, chief of the senior engineering staff of Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation.

Floating mines were used by patriots in Bordentown, N. J., against the British fleet in 1776.

New York Stocks

Stock Market Higher Today

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(INS)—The stock market ruled selectively higher today with television shares outstandingly strong.

Zenith was the pace-setter with a rise of 2 points to 66 3/4. Motorola was up 1/2 at 48 1/2 and Philco gained 1 at 43 1/2.

American Cyanamid was in demand in the industrial sector, advancing 1 1/2 to 66 3/4. A mixed price trend, however, developed among the pivotal issues. Gaining slightly were General Electric and DuPont, while small losses were sustained by U. S. Steel and Standard Oil of New Jersey. Unchanged levels were quoted for General Motors, Bethlehem Steel and Union Carbide.

Lockheed was a soft spot in the aviation, easing 3/4 to 30 1/4, but United Aircraft and Douglas held unchanged.

Chesapeake & Ohio met selling in a mixed rail group, declining 1/2 to 31 on an opening transaction of 2,000 shares. New York Central was up 1/4 to 16 3/4, and Southern Pacific was up 1/4 at 61 3/8.

Curb stocks were firm. Kaiser Frazer was up 1/4, Cities Service was unchanged, and Electric Bond and Share was unchanged.

The bond market did little, with only minor changes in evidence. Commodities were lower, highlighted by a limit decline of 2 cents a pound in rubber futures. Wheat was off 1/2 cent a bushel, corn was down 5/8, and cotton was off $1.25 a bale.

Mother On Trial For Death Of Her Two Children

HARRISBURG, Sept. 26.—(INS)—A 27-year-old Harrisburg mother accused of asphyxiating her two babies went on trial today at Harrisburg charged with second degree murder and the commonwealth rested its case after a speedy one-hour session.

Patrolman Lester Hines summed up the testimony of three other officers when it testified in Dauphin county court. Hines said Mrs. Ellamae Bergstresser told them shortly after the August 3 tragedy that she neither recalled writing the suicide note found by authorities when they broke into her home nor turning on the gas jets in the kitchen stove.

The court was told the defendant said, however, that she must have written the note because no one else was in the house at the time.

Mrs. Bergstresser had contemplated suicide at some time prior to the asphyxiation deaths, the court was told by the officers. The case is expected to go to a jury of seven women and five men late this afternoon after the defense presents its case.

Return Indictments Against Eighteen Miami Gamblers

MIAMI, Sept. 26.—(INS)—A crime-busting Dade county grand jury today returned gambling indictments against 18 persons described as leading Miami area gamblers.

The jurors also indicted the Rolfe armored truck service on similar charges.

Names of those indicted were withheld pending their arrest. Robert Givens, special attorney for the grand jury, said the 18 persons are "not small fry" but he indicated all are Miami area gamblers.

The grand jury's action came just three weeks after the same jurors returned indictments against eight key figures in the S. and G. bookmaking syndicate of Miami Beach.

All eight members of the S. and G. combine have been formally charged in criminal informations filed by County Solicitor Robert R. Taylor.

One of the syndicate members is Harry Russell of Chicago and Miami Beach, who refused to reveal information about his activities to the Kefauver Senate Crime Investigating committee last week.

Most Beloved Car in the World!

Ask the average owner of a 1950 Cadillac whether he expects his next car to carry the same proud name—and the chances are he will find it difficult to believe that you are serious.

It simply never occurs to him that any other car could take the place of his beloved Cadillac.

And this deep respect for Cadillac goes far beyond its owners. In fact, it overflows the whole of America.

A survey just completed indicates that almost half of all the motor car owners in the United States would buy a Cadillac if they felt it suited to their economic situation.

Surely, in all our industrial history, there has been no finer example of quality's ability to hold the respect and regard of the American people.

We wish that all who want a Cadillac could own one. And we know that more would purchase Cadillacs if only they would properly evaluate these basic facts:

—the lower-priced cars in the Cadillac line cost less to buy than certain models of numerous other makes of cars.

—you can drive a Cadillac all day long, under normal conditions, on a single tankful of gasoline.

—a Cadillac car is built so well, its lifespan has never been fully measured.

Yes, it is far more practical to own this car than most people realize.

Why not pay us a visit soon—and see for yourself? We are sure you're closer to "The Standard of the World" than you ever thought you were!

Republicans See Congress Election Gains

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Top Republican congressional leaders predicted today that the house will come under GOP control in the November elections.

Republican congressional campaign chairman Rep. Leonard W. Hall, N. Y., said the GOP will win the house by a "good margin."

Hall added that he will soon make public a detailed analysis of the prevailing situation based on a survey made by Republicans in the field.

Hall told a newsman that the survey indicated that "remarkable gains" will be made in November, adding:

"It looks very good right now for a Republican victory in November."

House Republican Leader Martin of Mass. was more cautious in his predictions. Martin was speaker of the house in the Republican 80th congress in 1947 and 1948 and would presumably take over the post again in the event of a GOP victory at the polls.

Risky To Predict
Martin added:

"It looks good now, but it is risky to predict so far in advance what will happen."

Martin indicated he felt that if the election were to be held now a Republican victory would be assured.

Administration leaders privately agree that the Democrats will lose some seats but do not expect that the losses will be so great as to overcome the 89-vote lead they now hold.

The Republicans must pick up 48 seats to win control as there are five vacancies. However, two of the vacancies are Republican and it would appear that if the GOP can garner 46 new seats in November that would be sufficient. The house now consists of 239 Democrats, 170 Republicans and one American Laborite.

"Lovin' Sam" Engel Still In Business

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—(INS) —Sigmund "Lovin' Sam" Engel, the 74-year-old heart throb who claims to have wooed 1,000 women, is not letting prison bars interfere with his business activities.

Engel currently is serving a two-to-10 year sentence in Stateville penitentiary for wooing one woman too many, a Chicago widow from whom he embezzled $8,500.

Warden Joseph Ragen reported he intercepted a parcel of 1,000 envelopes and stationery addressed to Engel which bore the letterhead: "Sigmund S. Engel Co.—Love of 1,001 Women."

A large, red heart was engraved on the paper and envelopes and letter head listed as officers one of Engel's former wives, Pauline Langton Engel, president; S. F. Engel, vice-president, and John Langton, Jr., publicity director.

Warden Ragen sent the parcel back to New York.

Atomic Bomb Would Cause Pittsburgh 140,000 Casualties

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 26.—(INS) —An atomic bomb dropped over Pittsburgh's Golden Triangle during working hours would cause 140,000 casualties.

That is the estimate of the District Civilian Defense Organization.

The catastrophic effect would be limited to a radius of one mile from the zero point. It is believed here are some more atomic bomb facts concerning Pittsburgh, the nation's arsenal of Democracy, and a likely target for any such attack.

A few minutes advance warning would save the lives of thousands by permitting them to flee to bomb shelters, such as underground floors of steel and concrete buildings.

Unless the bomb dropped in one of the rivers at the point, there would be no prolonged danger of radioactivity. Rescuers probably could enter an air burst area within 10 minutes after the explosion.

However, a burst in water or in the earth would provide a serious and prolonged residual radiation danger.

In order to handle the problem of determining the presence of dangerous radiation following a bomb burst, a nucleus of 40 Atlantic energy commission and industrial experts are setting up four radiation activity detection centers in Pittsburgh.

"I'm gonna get a job on a soda fountain"

"What do you want to be when you grow up?"

Boy-dreams are grand dreams. And strictly American, too, because here they can come true. With the traditional freedoms of this country every boy has the privilege of choosing his own dream and working it out the way he wants.

Who would want to end those dreams? Who would want to trade away a boy's freedoms and opportunities?

Maybe you've heard people say, "Let the federal government take care of things. Let it take over the doctors. The railroads. The electric light and power companies."

Are they socialists? Not necessarily. Most of the people who talk that way just think it would be good for them, or for their town, or for everybody, if the government took over this problem or that one—this industry or that service. They don't stop to think that every time government takes over another responsibility, people lose another right.

History shows that when government controls enough things, it becomes socialistic automatically, whether the people want it or not. And then freedoms are gone—even the freedom to choose where to work, where to live, what to believe. Under socialism, there's no place for boy-dreams—or even grown-up ones.

This company and other business-managed, tax-paying electric light and power companies are fighting this creeping socialism wherever we find it. We believe it's your fight, too. How do your friends feel about it? Talk it over with five of them this week. The threat of socialism is everyone's problem because it is everyone's danger!

Homecoming At Pulaski Will Start Thursday

Former residents of Pulaski are planning to return to the old home town September 28-29-30 when a three-day Homecoming will be held.

A program of events covering the three days has been arranged some of them reminiscent of the old-time Pulaski Fair, with a modern touch.

Instead of a pulling contest between draft horses, there will be a tractor pulling contest on Saturday the final day. At 1:30 and 6:30 tractor drivers will compete in the event.

Street Dance Planned

Boxing and wrestling are on the amusement card, for Thursday night, on Friday night a street dance will be held. Trick roller skaters will display their art and concessions will take care of the visitors' demands for food, refreshment and games of skill and amusement.

Mike Rudzil and Dan Gearhart are in charge of the homecoming as chairmen. Wylie Heasley is chairman of the tractor pulling contest, Elias Reese is chairman of the concessions, and Robert Stowe is in charge of the Pet Parade.

The homecoming will be staged on the old Fair Grounds. For three days the excitement and entertainment of the old Pulaski Fair will be on again and the affair should attract thousands.

Report 21 British Troops Killed By Bomb Attack Error

(BULLETIN) TOKYO, Sept. 26.—(INS)—A British spokesman in Tokyo said today that the accidental bombing and strafing of British Argyle and Sutherland troops by air force pilots Saturday cost 21 dead and 20 wounded.

He said however that the casualties they suffered earlier in the day and then later during the enemy counterattacks which the bombing precipitated were much greater.

The British troops were hit by napalm (jellied gasoline) and fragmentation bombs from friendly planes, presumably American, after they called for an air strike against Reds on a hill west of the Nakdong River.

The North Koreans were quick to take advantage of the tragic mistake and launched an immediate counterattack that added heavily to the British casualties.

Prior to the mistake the British troops were advancing rapidly against fleeing Red troops.

POLIO CASES IN STATE HARRISBURG, Sept. 26.—(INS)—The 105 cases of poliomyelitis recorded the past week boosted the city's count to 717 cases, the state health department reported today.

During a comparable period last year, there were 612 cases. The all-time high was 2,181 cases reported in 1916.

Eugene O'Neill, Jr. Takes Own Life

WOODSTOCK, N. Y., Sept. 26.—(INS)—The death of Eugene O'Neill, Jr., son of the Nobel prize-winning dramatist, was recorded officially today as "an absolute case of suicide by a man who was despondent over love trouble."

O'Neill's body was found yesterday in his home on Ohayo mountain near Woodstock, an artists' colony. The black-bearded 40-year-old Greek drama authority had slashed his left wrist with a razor blade as he sat in a bathtub in his lonely home.

Coroner Ernest A. Kelly said that O'Neill committed suicide in a fit of despondency after being jilted by his attractive blonde fiancée, Miss Ruth Lander, twice-divorced 36-year-old artist.

She broke their engagement last Saturday night although they had announced their marriage plans only the night before. Another suitor of long standing had persuaded Miss Lander to change her mind.

Beside the blood-spattered bathtub police found this note: "Never let it be said of O'Neill that he failed to empty a bottle. Hail and farewell."

Thanksgiving Day became a national holiday under the administration of Abraham Lincoln.

Koreans Take 300 American Prisoners Away From Seoul

SEOUL, Korea, Sept. 26.—(INS)—Marine Col. Lewis (Chesty) Puller, commander of a Marine regiment, said today that a Korean Methodist missionary had informed him that 300 American prisoners of war held in the Seoul public school building had been carried away northward the day the Marines landed in Inchon.

The missionary said the prisoners appeared to be in good physical condition.

The report followed the discovery yesterday of a cache of American Army insignia in the Seoul city jail when the building was taken by Marines. The Marines in the jail had been moved a few days earlier.

Seoul residents also reported that South Korean prisoners in the jail had been shot in the head after their hands were tied just before the Marines entered the city.

FULENO-HULETT WEDDING IMPRESSIVE

In a ceremony of charming simplicity, Miss Trudy Maxine Fuleno and Edgar C. Hulett were united in marriage on Saturday, Sept. 16, with vows being pledged in the First United Brethren church at 6:30 p. m., Rev. Howard Munn performing the single ring service in the presence of relatives and friends.

The bride is the daughter of Joseph Fuleno, 415 Hutchinson street, this city. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar C. Hulett, Sr., of 269 Park avenue, Weehawken, N. J.

The youthful bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory satin gown, with a heart-shaped neckline and Chantilly lace trim. The bodice was fitted and long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists. The full skirt, designed with a single row of Chantilly lace, ended in a cathedral train. Her imported nylon veil cascaded from a rhinestone and baby pearl tiara, enhanced with a row of Chantilly lace. She carried a gold leafed Bible ornamented with two white orchids and streamers of tulle. A good luck piece was worn in her shoe, and she also carried out the traditional custom of something old, new, borrowed and blue. Her only jewelry was a gold cross, a gift from the groom.

A pale green nylon gown with matching hat and mitts was chosen by the maid of honor, Miss Eleanor Sansosti. Her colonial bouquet consisted of yellow tea roses. Bridesmaids, the Misses Joan Fuleno, sister of the bride; Martha Walters, Laceria Fuleno and Madeline Corio, were dressed in creations of nylon marquisette trimmed with Chantilly lace. The groom had as best man Donald Gallagher and ushers were Carlyle Haybarger, Tom Fee, Carmer Romanio and Clarence Sansosti.

A reception for 350 relatives and friends was held at the Unione Calabro hall on Division street, after which Mr. and Mrs. Hulett left on their honeymoon to New Jersey and other parts. They will make their home in Weehawken, N. J.

Maj. Barnes Sends Message To Sponsors From Camp

Men of the 229th Field Artillery Battalion are really into the army groove by now, according to Major Alfred F. Barnes, commanding the unit.

In a letter to the Lawrence County civilian sponsors, Major Barnes tells of the schedule. His letter follows:

HEADQUARTERS
229th Field Artillery Battalion
Camp Atterbury, Indiana

September 22, 1950
Lawrence County Civilian Sponsors
New Castle, Pa.

Gentlemen:
In behalf of the 229th Field Artillery Battalion, I wish to take this opportunity to thank you and the people of Lawrence County for generous gifts to the 229th Field Artillery Battalion.

We are working hard in our training. Reveille is at 5:30 a. m. and retreat at 6:00 p. m. This makes a long day and at its end the men like to gather in the day room to talk and write letters home. Through your efforts these day rooms are shaping up and in time will be the best in camp.

Our radios and record players arrived in good condition and the men are already enjoying them. The furniture you are shipping will make the day rooms an excellent place for relaxation. We would like very much to thank those responsible for sending the New Castle News. It is certainly a welcome addition to our library and the men read it from cover to cover.

Again thanking the good people of the county for making our tour of duty in the army more pleasant, I remain

Very truly yours,
Alfred F. Barnes
Major, 229th FA Bn.
Commanding

Financed By Contributions

The two radio-record player combinations mentioned were expressed a week ago. Money for them came through contributions made by local residents and organizations to the Sponsor Fund. The furniture mentioned has not been shipped yet. This will include four writing desks, four table lamps, six lounge chairs, six floor lamps, some ping pong and other indoor games.

Transportation of the furniture would ordinarily mean a considerable item for Camp Atterbury is 394 miles west and south of New Castle.

City Tax Levy On Stocks And Bonds Urged By Audino

Ralph Audino of the A. F. of L., who spoke against the wage tax Friday in council chambers, claims he was misquoted in a report of his remarks, and today explained that phase of his Friday talk concerning a proposed tax on unearned income.

He said he recommended to council, they study the unearned income, which according to statistics given him in city hall, there was $13,000,000 business transacted in stocks and bonds here last year.

In order to put a tax on this phase of unearned income tax, Audino said, it would also be necessary to impose a tax on the man who receives a pension.

If the $13,000,000 were taxed, it would bring $130,000, and he added that, if the tax were imposed, it unfortunately would result in the man on pension being affected.

Audino said that if the city got this $130,000 additional, even though pensioners had to pay a small sum, the property tax could be reduced.

He also said the saving on the property tax, even though the pensioner had to pay a small sum would result in the pensioner not being "out of money" at the end of the year.

Audino said that he, personally, did not like to see a pensioner taxed.

Mr. Audino did not make the statement concerning the failure of the school board to award a contract for coal. Another spokesman made the remark.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By FR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Widening Horizons

As our younger children grow up many interesting changes take place. Fifteen-year-old Norman, for instance, is a puzzle to his folks. They have always thought of him as just a good, healthy, normal kid. Recently, though, they can't understand him. Instead of spending all his time playing ball and hanging around with his gang of friends, he's interested in all sorts of things that never concerned him before.

Several times he's made remarks that show he's thinking about religion, and puzzled as to what it means. Although he has always gone to Sunday school without objection, he has begun to question some of the ideas held by his teachers and by the minister. He's impatient and intolerant over the way his parents use their spare time. He's been turning the radio to stations that have classical music when his father had planned to listen to the ball game. And he's made rather slighting remarks about some of the popular magazines that are around the house.

Alert, intelligent youngsters in their teens do begin to question a lot of the things that previously they've taken for granted. It's a definite sign of growing up. And it's important that parents take these matters seriously. Trying to understand their developing ideas—the widening of horizons that is taking place—is far more beneficial to youngsters than to scoff and argue with them.

Semi-Month Declines In Relief Continue

HARRISBURG, Sept. 26.—(INS)—The 12th consecutive semi-month decline in relief was registered for the first half of September, the state department of public assistance reported today.

An accelerated decrease for the two weeks, the DPA said, amounted to 8569 persons and sent the statewide total down to 639,397 persons.

More than half of the persons left the rolls for jobs in private industry, according to the department.

The increase in the rate of decline of the assistance rolls reflects not only the season increase in employment usually experienced at this time of year, but also the gradual improvement of over-all economic conditions resulting from the expanding national defense program.

Lost Dog Returns; Missing Two Years

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26.—(INS)—Laddie, the perambulating pup, has come home after an absence of two years.

The white, curly-haired pooch—part poodle, part chow—disappeared in October 1949 from the home of his six-year-old mistress, Margaret Kelly.

Weeks of search for Laddie by the Kelly family proved of no avail. But strictly on his own—the same way he left—Laddie walked in dejected, hungry and dirty. Little Margaret Kelly didn't mind, though. She was happy just to have Laddie come home.

SECOND MARRIAGE

"I am planning to be married soon and since I have previously been married I shall wear street clothes. I wish to issue invitations and have a reception. (1) Should I have my brother, who is five years older than I, or my uncle give me away at my wedding? My father isn't living. (2) Would it be correct and permissible to enter church with the groom and two attendants from a side entrance rather than walk down the aisle prior to the ceremony, and only walk down the aisle afterward? If this occurs, what should be done about the pre-nuptial wedding march? In my position, should I throw my bouquet at the reception? (4) When I display my gifts, should I leave the cards on them to indicate whom they are from?"

Answer: (1) You may be given away by either your brother or your uncle, or you may walk in the side entrance with the groom, as you wish. (2) You may have the wedding march played in either case.

(3) You may throw your bouquet, which will probably be a corsage.

(4) Unless your gifts are so numerous that they probably require a reminder as to "who sent what," remove the gift cards.

The only definite stipulation is: No bridesmaids, which are correct only in a formal wedding at which the bride wears traditional attire, and that, of course, is permissible at a first marriage only.

Question: I would like to know what is the correct attire for the groom and ushers in a formal wedding at five-thirty.

Answer: The men at a late afternoon wedding should wear afternoon clothes—striped trousers, cutaway coats, etc. This is the proper form of formal attire up to 6 p. m., after which swallowtail coats, white ties are correct.

Eight Accused Of Thefts From Telephone Co.

MIAMI, Sept. 26.—(INS)—Miami police promised more arrests today in "the case of the silver falsies" in which employees of the Southern Bell Telephone company used their brassieres to smuggle out at least $100,000 in coins. Police said eight women already have been arrested and charged with padding their bras with nickels, dimes and quarters brought in from pay stations. Also arrested were members of their families and boy friends, bringing the total to 14.

According to police, the girls took as much as $100,000 during the past two years—as far back as the investigation will go because of the statute of limitations. Some $10,000 already has been recovered at employees' homes.

Admit Thefts
Police said two girl employees, Mrs. Betty Corrigan, 23, and Mrs. Marie Orr, 21, admitted they took as much as $150 a day from the firm's counting room. On information supplied by the girls, police quickly arrested 12 more persons. The girls told police they hid rolls of coins in their brassieres to sneak the money out of the building. When the brassieres bulged with too much silver, they said, the coins were transferred in the ladies' washroom to the bras of other employees.

Authorities said "the case of the silver falsies" was revealed when 18-year-old Rita Orr reported a theft at her home in west Miami.

Miss Orr is a sister-in-law of Marie Orr.

Investigating officers said they found thousands of dollars, mostly in silver, crammed into suitcases at the home. Mrs. Corrigan and Marie Orr told police:

"It's been going on for years."

Pfc. J. L. Bartberger Wounded In Action

Word has been received here from the government that Pfc. John L. Bartberger was wounded seriously in action August 19, in Korea. Pfc. Bartberger, son of Joseph Bartberger, 208 East Wallace avenue, was also wounded July 28. He went back to duty August 4, after receiving his first injuries.

Pfc. Bartberger enlisted in August of 1948 in the U. S. Army, being in the infantry branch of service. He went to Japan last November, having been assigned to the army of occupation. The young man was transferred to Korea July 7, 1950.

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

Hollywood, Sept. 26—The weighty problem of just what tennis sounds like occupied the technical brains of RKO-Radio during the past week when it came time to add the action shots for "Mother of a Champion."

The sound technicians decreed that tennis does not sound like tennis at all. The experts said that the actual game sounded like a quiet game of cribbage or quarts or something equally genteel and un-noisy and, therefore, actual sound tracks filmed at net tournaments were not to be used in the picture. The film co-stars Claire Trevor and Sally Forrest.

Sound Experts Stumped

Sound experts experimented with all types of balls and spheres to obtain the "authentic" sounds that they considered ought to be identified with tennis. They finally settled on a kid's marble shooter projected from a slingshot against treated, stiffened mosquito netting.

The sound experts also did not like the way tennis crowds reacted to the game they were watching. A special camera and sound unit was sent to Forest Hills several weeks ago to record the international championships then in session for inclusion in scenes in "Mother of a Champion."

Cameras rolled as a new champion was established. The sound apparatus recorded the reactions of the crowd to the game being played.

Canned Noises

But when the sound effects were played back the assembled multitude sounded like a dozen politely applauding viewers of a devilish croquet set-to.

So when you see "Mother of a Champion," and you hear the crowds cheer Sally, you will really be hearing crowd sound effects picked up at the Rose Bowl and the Coliseum when USC and UCLA are on their opponents' 5-yard line, with one minute to go.

Another Crooner

George Guetary, romantic singing idol of France, wants to return to Hollywood after he completes "American in Paris," to appear in a western film.

Guetary says he loves horses and the action of cowboy pictures. Since his arrival in southern California he has seen every rodeo in the vicinity. "They are so American," he said, "nothing like it on the continent. Of course, they will have to make allowances for my French accent. I could be a dude from Paris out to conquer the West."

PACKING LUNCHES CAN BE FUN

Some homemakers in Lawrence county find it easy to pack a well-balanced and good to eat lunch for their children. Many of these homemakers have a lunch box nook in the kitchen where they keep napkins, cups, small jars, waxed paper, aluminum foil, and a couple of spoons. Near the nook they also have a good bread knife and a bread board, a knife for spreading sandwiches, and a small salt shaker.

Homemakers who have a home freezer often make a week's supply of sandwiches at one time and freeze them. Put in the lunch box in the frozen state, the sandwiches thaw and are ready to eat by noon. The fillings are varied so the child does not become tired of them.

Besides having a lunch that is good to eat, the food is neatly packed in the lunch box. Food to be eaten first is on top of the box, and each food is wrapped separately in waxed paper, waxed bags, or aluminum foil.

Cookies are a good dessert for the lunch box. They may be made ahead of time and stored in the freezer. Here is a recipe for oatmeal cookies:

Oatmeal Cookies

1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup molasses
2 eggs, unbeaten
2 cups rolled oats
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 cup raisins, chopped
Melt shortening over low heat. Stir in sugar and molasses. Add eggs and beat well. Stir in rolled oats and continue to beat. Sift together flour, soda, salt, and cinnamon. Keep out a little flour to sift over raisins. Add floured raisins last; mix in well. Drop by spoonfuls on greased cookie sheet. Bake at 375 degrees Fahrenheit about 12 minutes. Makes 5 to 6 dozen cookies.

The biggest concrete mixing plant in the world is in Cleveland. It can turn out more than 200 cubic yards of concrete an hour.

The American crocodile was discovered in the U. S. in 1876.

U. S. Forces In Southeast Are Moving Fast

the flight northward Monday night along the Seoul-Yonchon highway. Long-reaching American field guns and low-sweeping carrier-borne U. S. Marine Corsairs rained shells, bombs, rockets and aerial gunfire on the foe in an effort to break up or at least impede the retreat.

Batter Fleeing Troops

The terrific pounding was reported cutting the fleeing enemy troops to pieces.

Rearguard Red units fought within Seoul's northern city limits from snipers' and machine gunners' nests and even essayed one tank-led final counter-attack early Tuesday. This was smashed by the marines who killed or wounded hundreds of the attackers and demolished nine of 12 Red tanks.

The Communist counter-attack took place at 2 a. m., just 15 minutes before the marines of Col. Lewis (Chesty) Puller were scheduled to launch an attack of their own.

Puller said that at least 1,000 of the enemy were dispersed by the marines after the Reds were caught in an artillery barrage. We'd have gotten what they received instead," Puller said. "Now I really believe in God."

Puller added, "the dope received last night was that all their soldiers were gone or going from the city. So we thought we'd go along with them. They were going all right, but in the wrong direction—towards us."

Civilians Aid

Meanwhile South Korean government pamphlets urged civilians to aid the military and told them that the unification of their country and the end of the war were near.

In several instances civilians helped out the marines by pointing out Red-planted land mines and helping round up suspected Communists.

The fleeing North Korean troops were reported to be taking with them a number of American war prisoners who had been held in a Seoul stockade. This was not yet officially confirmed at Tenth Corps headquarters.

Seoul was freed from its three-month Communist rule after a day of bitter street fighting during which shells and bombs turned some sections of the sprawling city into a blazing inferno.

Climax Of Fighting

The climax of the fighting was reached late Monday night when U. S. Seventh Division forces, which had captured Seoul mountain dominating Seoul's heart, swept rapidly into the city's Kwangsu eastern section.

This fastened the American grip onto three sides of Seoul—the west, south and east—and left only the north as an avenue of escape for the remaining troops of the Red garrison.

Meanwhile, flame-throwing American tanks helped flush Red snipers out of rooftops and barricades.

Gen. Almond personally visited the Seoul sector in the morning.

He was told by Col. Lewis "Chesty" Puller, commander of the First Marine Regiment, that the enemy deliberately had forced the Americans to use artillery against Seoul buildings converted into Red strongpoints. Puller said:

"It is worth a billion dollars worth of propaganda to them."

Puller told Almond, who toured the front this morning, that the marines have been going after pockets of sniper resistance. However they have found them and that damage to the city will be greater than had been anticipated.

A spokesman for the 10th Corps, which brought the city of Seoul under control, estimated that the attacking forces would have 4,000 prisoners of war by Monday morning.

He said the prisoners had been taken since the Inchon landing, but that the surrender rate had greatly increased since the start of the Seoul attack.

Forces Near Linkup

TAEGU, Korea, Sept. 26—(INS)—Two U. S. army divisions were reported tonight within 20 miles of a linkup between Korea's expanding southern front and the growing Inchon-Seoul beachhead—a junction that would trap scores of thousands of Red troops.

Reports from air spotters that units of the U. S. First Cavalry Division had been seen in Chonan, 17 miles northwest of Chochiwon, indicated gains of 47 miles for this division within 48 hours. The air observers' reports were not yet official.

The American forces moving swiftly up from southeast Korea were attempting to hammer the Red troops against the "anvil" of U. S. Seventh Division troops pressing down south of Osan below the Inchon-Seoul beachhead.

An official Eighth Army communique had the cavalry reconnaissance elements in Chochiwon earlier in the day. Chochiwon is 25 miles to the northwest of Taegu. First Cavalry spearheads had sped forward 30 miles in one day to reach Chochiwon.

Troops of the 24th U. S. division neared Yongdong this afternoon, two months to the day after UN forces abandoned the town and withdrew to the south. Unconfirmed reports had elements of the division on the outskirts of the town. Yongdong is about 25 miles from Kumchon, which the 24th division captured yesterday.

One regiment of the American Second Division took Kochang this morning, capturing prisoners, guns and tons of ammunition. Other elements of the division were actively engaged in clearing enemy pockets from northeast and southeast of Hyopchon.

Making Plans For Armistice Day Program

New Castle's Armistice Day Parade will be one of the largest of recent years, according to the planning board of the New Castle Veterans Council as they drew up a tentative program for November 11.

Edward DeCarbo, commander of the Catholic War Veterans and chairman of the Armistice Day committee, with his subordinate committeemen, went into detail at Monday evening's meeting in preparation of Armistice Day. Meeting was held in the American Legion Home on North Jefferson street.

With representatives of all veteran organizations in the city, selection of parade marshal was made. George Hurst, of the New Castle, will lead the parade this year. It is expected that the parade composed of five divisions and approximately 10 bands. The band committee is headed by Arnold Barnsley of V.F.W. 315.

Memorial services set for 10 a. m. at the War Memorial on the corner of Court and Washington streets. Place and time for the forming of the parade has not been set as yet. The Memorial Service will be in charge of Harvey Birtim of the Legion's 40 and 8.

This week invitations will go out to fraternal, civic and veterans organizations for groups and floats in the parade. To help set up the Armistice Day program, Chairman DeCarbo has appointed the following committees: Manning Weller of the American Legion, parade reviewing; William Kazenski, V.F.W. 315, civic organizations; Donald Crowl, American Legion, veterans organizations; Frank Baron and Joseph Brown, Jewish War Vets, floats; George Williams, Catholic War Vets, transportation; Ed Coyne, V.F.W. 315 and Joseph Heinrich, V.F.W. 522, open house for the bands.

Further details for the program and parade will be worked out at the next meeting of the New Castle Veterans Council at the Ne-shannock Post, V.F.W. 315 at 9:15 p. m. on October 9.

Gabrielson To Start Western Tour On Monday

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26—(INS)—Republican National Chairman Guy Gabrielson starts a western campaign swing next Monday which will overlap part of Vice President Barkley's "wind-sock" tour for the Democrats.

Barkley's ambitious trip will be a five-week affair traveled entirely by air. It will supplant the "whistle stop" rail tour cancelled by President Truman.

Gabrielson, it was learned today, will carry the GOP gospel to the Pacific northwest and Rocky mountain states.

He will be gone from October 2 to 19 and plans to travel by rail and plane to about half the 15 states to be visited by Barkley on his coast-to-coast stumping.

Republicans emphasize there is no intended connection between their chairman's speaking tour and that of the "Veep."

Harlansburg P.T.A. Plans Year's Work

Members of the Harlansburg Parent-Teachers' association met Thursday evening at the school building. The mothers' prayer was read by Mrs. Willis Kneram, and reports were given by the various committees.

The group will hold a spaghetti dinner October 12 at the Liberty grange hall. The playground committee reported that a jungle jim had been purchased for the school grounds.

A home nursing program is being planned for the women of the Harlansburg community. Mrs. Hanna Morrow is to be in charge of this project.

Group singing was later led by Mr. Hill, and an indoor Wiener roast enjoyed by the members. The committee for the event was composed of Mrs. Phil Cox, Mrs. Howard Glenn, Miss Geraldine Campbell, Mrs. Ray Musgrave, and Mrs. Gerald North.

On October 19 the next meeting of the P.T.A. will be held.

Grove City W.S.C.S. At Savannah Church

Fall meeting of the Grove City Sub-District No. 5 of the Women's Society of Christian Service took place September 22, in Savannah Methodist church, where the Croton Methodists were in charge of registration in the morning.

Mrs. Paul Aley offered an organ prelude. Mrs. Frank Vaneman, the presiding officer, extended greetings for the host congregation. After Mrs. David Vaneman led in prayer and read the Scriptures, Mrs. Harry McCullough gave the morning meditation. Miss Shirley Loeffler sang "The Green Cathedral" as a solo.

Later Mrs. Roy Grandy, the sub-district president, divided the group into sections for officers' training. Rev. Paul Aley closed the morning session with prayer.

A tureen luncheon was served at noon with the Savannah church women serving dessert and coffee. Mrs. Frank Vaneman presided in the afternoon, while Mrs. David Vaneman conducted the roll call, there being 94 in attendance, including sub-district officers and guests.

Members of Greenwood Methodist congregation extended an invitation to the group to have next fall's meeting in that church.

Mrs. R. Rhodes was elected as convener, while Mrs. L. Leiser was named as acting secretary.

West Pittsburgh Methodist women had charge of the offering with Mrs. Norman Johnson leading in prayer. Mrs. Phillip Winter, of Epworth church, led devotions. During the worship period Mrs. David McCreary sang "Cleanse Me" as a solo.

Mrs. Frank Vaneman introduced Mrs. J. F. Rentz, the Erie Conference W.S.C.S. president, who talked briefly. Mrs. Rentz, in turn, presented Mrs. L. Landrum, a divisional field secretary, who spoke, using "The Four Looks" as her theme. Mrs. Grandy offered the closing prayer.

Must Pressure Western Europe To Defend Itself

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26—(INS)—Sen Connally (D) Tex., declared today that the United States "must constantly put pressure" on western European countries to do their "utmost" to defend themselves.

The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee stressed the necessity for western Europe to "get busy" on its defenses in a news conference.

Connally said he was told American delegates to the North Atlantic Pact conferences that defense against Communism is a "cooperative proposition and we must constantly put pressure and heat on western Europe to defend themselves to the utmost."

Seek To Determine Musmanno's Status

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 26—(INS)—An official of the Allegheny County Bar Association today said he is trying to determine if Judge Michael A. Musmanno has violated the canons of the American Bar Association.

Musmanno, the Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, took a two-month "leave of absence" as a common pleas court judge in Pittsburgh to campaign for the state office.

Fred C. Houston, chairman of the county association's judiciary committee, said he is particularly interested in the bar association's canon of ethics, which states that a judge should resign his post if he seeks a non-judicial office in an election.

Musmanno would make no comment on Houston's statements.

Houston said when he collects his facts, he will present them to his committee.

Boston Red Sox Win Pair, Great Interest In Mat Show

Idle Tigers Lose Ground

By HOWARD SIGMAND
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 — The whiz kid Philadelphia Phillies can well take a few lessons from the old pro New York Yankees today on how to wrap up a flag.

The Phillies, of course, are new at this pennant-clinching racket. They haven't worked at the job in 35 years.

The Yankees, on the other hand, know the business outside-in or from any angle you care to examine. They are gunning for their 17th such honor.

Yanks Need Four

It looks like the Yankees. The destiny lads are 3½ games ahead of the pack and their magic number is four. The whiz kids head their league by five games and their magic figure is the same, four.

The Yankees racked up the Washington Senators, 8 to 3 and 7 to 4, yesterday in a vital twin bill. They have two more with the Nats today, two more with the hapless Athletics and a couple with the Red Sox.

The Tigers lost ground by not being scheduled and now any combination of four Yankee wins or Tiger losses and it's boom-bye for the rolefemmes. They play two with the Browns today, two more with these same Browns after that and wind up with three games against the Indians, who were curbed mathematically by the Bombers' victories.

Red Sox Win Two

Boston is still four games away. They got pitching two days too late. Mel Parnell and ex-Dodger Harry Taylor pitched 8-to-0 and 3-to-0 shutout wins over the Athletics.

The Phillies appeared to have regained their punch when they kayoed 21-game winner Warren Spahn and went on to trounce the Boston Braves, 12 to 4, in the first part of a doubleheader.

But they lost the nightcap, 5 to 3, when Jim Konstanty made one of his rare inefficient relief performances. It was a pity, too, because Konstanty had tied a Major League mark when he appeared for the 70th time in the season. The only other pitcher to have so many show-ups was Ace Adams of the Giants back in 1943.

The New York Giants, who were knocked out of the pennant when the Dodgers and Preacher Roe beat them, 3 to 2, in an afternoon game, came back to down the Brooks, 4 to 3, in a wild night contest.

Judging by the interest in the non-championship games that have been played and reports to the league office from the thirteen clubs, 1950 should be one of the greatest years in the history of professional football.

The game was originally scheduled for Sunday afternoon but was postponed because of the smog condition.

Four Girls, Four Men To Grapple

BOBBY FORD

Is the female of the species more vicious than the male? This query will be answered Friday night in The Arena when the Jefferson A. C. stages a Tag match between four girls, splendid form, and yet in their 20's, and four men, several of whom are "tele" performers.

According to reports from Jefferson A. C. headquarters, there will be as many women who will attend the bouts as there will be men. They are coming to the show, the JAC reports, to find out how young girls can wrestle roughly, undergo punishment and yet retain their beauty.

Jean Holland and Nell Stewart are matched to wrestle Beverly Lehman and Carol Cook, in a Tag match, which when staged between men is nothing more than a brawl. It will be the first time in the history of the city, girls have performed on a local mat.

Gene Stanley, known as "Mr. America" and also as "The Body" because of his Adonis-like structure, will take on Sandor Kovacs, a rough heavyweight in the feature bout.

Bobby Ford, of Youngstown, handsome of face and built like a Hercules, will take on Billy Venable, a vicious Texan who has wrestled here in past mat exhibitions.

Konstanty Ties Games Record

Has Now Appeared In Seventy Games

BOSTON, Sept. 26.—(INS)—Jim Konstanty of the Phils has tied the modern record for hurling appearances—70—set by Ace Adams of New York in 1943.

Konstanty's record-equaling performance came when he relieved Russ Meyer in the second Phil's game with the Boston Braves last night. Jim lost to make his season's record 16 and 6.

The big relief pitcher has saved 26 games this season. He has pitched 145 2/3 innings, allowed 42 runs, 100 hits, fanned 53 and walked 47.

Jim is now aiming for the all-time Major League record of 75 season appearances set by William H. White, of Cincinnati, in 1879.

Ezzard Charles Says, "I'll Kayo Mr. Joe Louis In Twelfth Round"

By CHARLES EINSTEIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Ezzard Charles said today he will knock Joe Louis out in the 12th round of their fight of the half-century at Yankee stadium tomorrow night.

"What," inquired the impulsive Louis, more or less in reply, "Does he figure he's going to be doing for the first eleven?"

That was a good question. It implied what many people have been saying outright about the scheduled 15-round heavyweight title bout—namely either that it will end suddenly and dramatically in the early stages, or limp along like a full-blown turkey.

Louis Favorite

The interesting thing about the odds are that Louis, about a 3-to-1 favorite, is favored by exactly the same margin to win by a knockout. In other words, nobody is figuring the 36-year-old bomber to go the distance for a decision.

Some experienced boxing men, indeed, figure Louis will bound from his stool like a caveman at the opening bell and throw everything he has at the NBA champion. "He did it with Schmeling," one onlooker said today, and added, quite unnecessarily, that Charles is no Schmeling.

But neither is Louis the Louis who Schmeling-ed Schmeling. Folks who have seen him train claim one and all that he is in better shape than at any time since the war, but that is not the fanciest recommendation in the world.

Joe Baksi, who fought Charles a couple of years ago, was in Louis' corner, psychiatrically speaking.

"Joe will win," Baksi said, "Because he still has the punching power and the eye. Charles isn't built to take what Louis is going to give him."

Plans Body Attack

Louis' personal physician, Dr. Clarence Hogan, said Joe is going to concentrate on Ezzard's body.

"That's to see if he can double Ezzard up," Dr. Hogan amplified. And veteran trainer George Nicholson maintained that Charles has been hit by a puncher like Louis.

"Besides," Nicholson added, "Joe is a great finisher. Always has been."

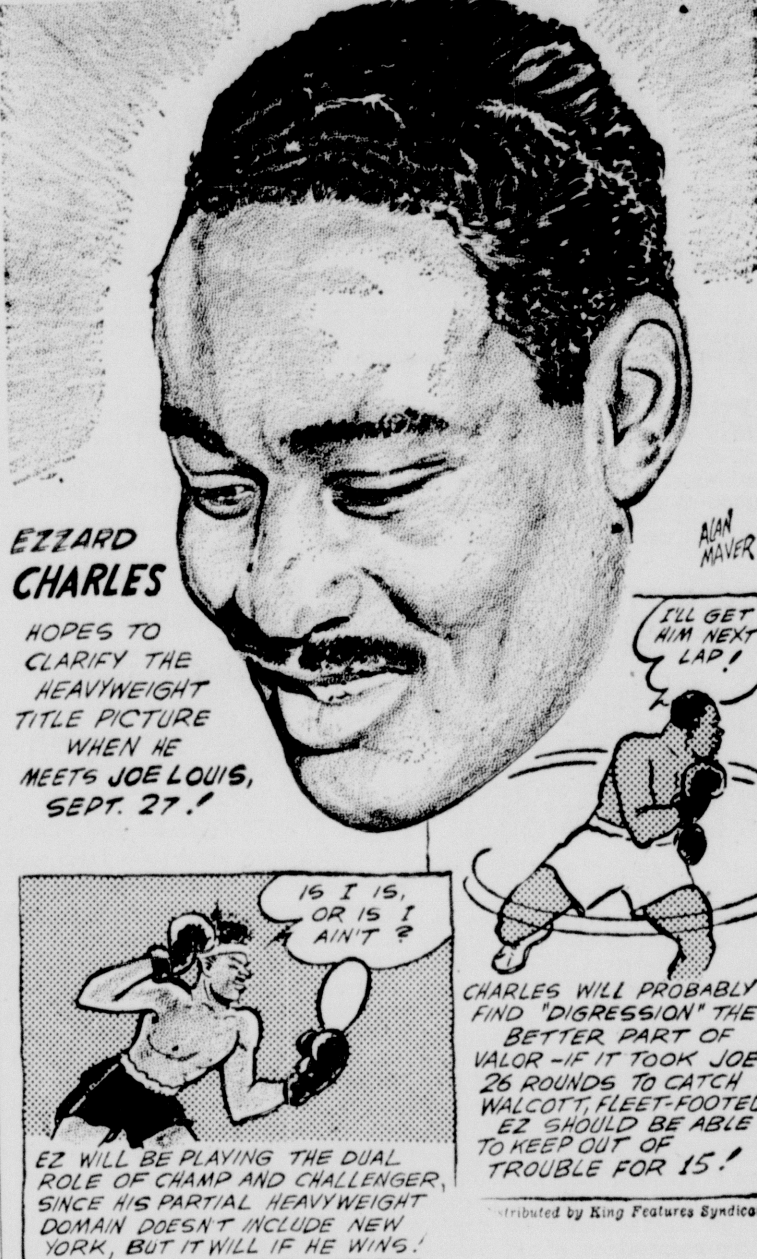

Paolone May Start For Fighting Irish

Ralph Paolone, New Castle star from 1946-1948, may land a starting berth for Notre Dame in the Irish opener against North Carolina.

Billy Barrett, regular right half-back, was limping on a sprained ankle in drills and may be replaced by Paolone, a sophomore.

Baumgartner, a sports writer for the Philadelphia Inquirer covering the Phillies, is the lone member of the 1915 Whiz Kids still in contact with the game.

Sharon Ticket Sale Wednesday

J. H. Earl McKenzie, manager of tickets at New Castle High, announced today that tickets for the New Castle-Sharon game Friday night at Sharon will go on sale Wednesday at the North street school at 9 o'clock, and will continue through Friday or until all tickets are sold. Only four tickets are allowed each customer.

Sharon sent around 1,000 reserved seat tickets at 35 cents per ticket. Tickets will be on sale each day from 9 to 4 o'clock.

Student tickets are available at New Castle High and the Junior high schools at 40 cents per ticket for students only.

Blackwell Out In Five Days

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 26.—(INS)—Cincinnati Reds' pitcher Ewell Blackwell was operated on for acute appendicitis Monday and was reported in "fine shape."

Dr. Reed Shank, team physician and surgeon, who performed the operation, said that Blackwell was all right and would be out of the hospital in about five days.

City Loop Managers Meet Thursday

Managers and officials of the City Loop will meet at seven o'clock Thursday night at Carm's shop, West Washington street, to discuss franchises for the 1951 season. It is vital that every team be represented by the manager or his proxy, empowered to act.

If the University of Pittsburgh shows up in the cotton bowl next New Year's Day, Panther officials will not be among those who are surprised. They are aiming high at Pitt this season, and maybe the elevation is justified. A lot of it is faith in the T-formation, which new coach Len Casanova brought with him from Santa Clara where he replaced Walter (Mike) Milligan last winter.

The Cleveland Browns have sold John "Jumbo" Yonakor, 29-year-old defensive end, to the New York Yanks for an unannounced amount of cash.

Canes At Sharon Friday; Bessemer-Union Saturday

New Castle high school football squad will travel to Sharon Friday night for its first away from home contest of the 1950 season.

The Cy James coached Tigers have a record of two wins and one loss for the season and could be pretty tough for the Red Hurricanes if they were on.

The Tigers lost their opener to Har-Brack by a 38-6 score but came back to win their next two starts from Beaver Falls and Sharpsville by 14-13 and 20-0 scores, respectively.

Coach James blamed poor tackling, blocking and charging for the Sharon loss to Har-Brack and spent almost the entire next week on fundamentals. Work on fundamentals paid off as Sharon dumped Beaver Falls 14-13.

Last week the Bengals had a soft touch in Sharpsville. The winners scored in every quarter but the third and threatened on six other occasions. Fleet-footed Herman Yassall scored two of the touchdowns around right end. The first TD run was good for 37 yards and second went 15.

Union Vs. Bessemer

Union township high school entertains Bessemer high school Saturday night at Union high field in the only game to be played in the county this weekend.

The Scotties dropped their first decision of the season last Friday night at Evans City by a 21-12 score, while the Cementers of Bessemer were racking up their first win Saturday night at Lowellville 40-0.

Bessemer fought the same Evans City team that defeated Union to a 0-0 standstill two weeks ago.

Ellwood City high school travels to Bradford Friday night for a non-league game. The Wolverines will be looking for their third win of the season. A tie with Vandergrift is all that mars their slate to date.

Sands Offered Philly Battle

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26.—(INS)—Australia's Dave Sands has been offered a match with the winner of the Ray Robinson—Carl Olson middleweight title bout scheduled for Philadelphia Oct. 26.

Matchmaker Johnny Attell cabled Jack Solomons in Sydney that he wanted to stage the bout in November for the Pennsylvania middleweight crown.

Attell offered Sands 20 percent of the gate and transportation for two from Australia.

Prayers For Peace Continued At Church

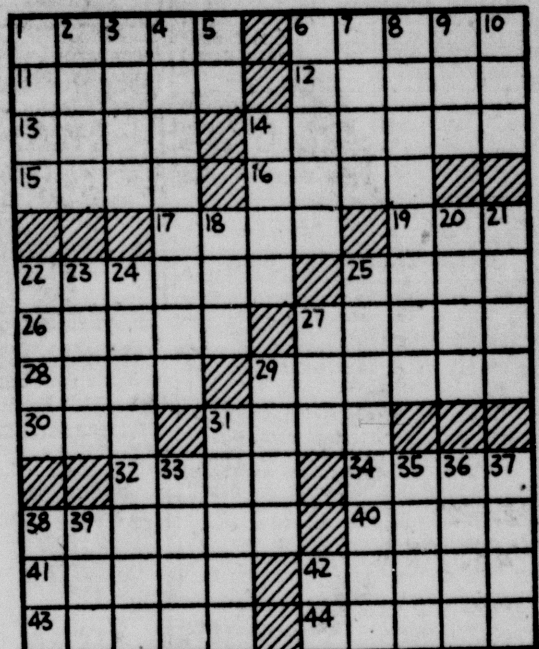

Prayers for peace will continue at the First Congregational church, 100 East Reynolds street, Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, it is announced by the pastor, Rev. Thomas J. Jones.

"The challenge of Joseph Malik, Russian representative at the United Nations sessions, should bring the western world in earnest petition before God for peace. Prayer changes things is the creed of every Christian, not merely on Sunday, but every day," Rev. Jones stated.

Mrs. Mary E. Jones will be the devotional leader and the pastor will speak on the theme, "You Cannot Save a Nation by Waving a Flag." A day of earnest emergency has come upon the Christian forces of America. Let Christian America not throw the Olive Branch into Russia's face. The common people have something more at stake than business expansion in the Far East.

Sprigle Talks About Rackets

Newspaperman Is Speaker At Rotary

Addressing members of the New Castle Rotary club and the Rotary Annals, at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary club, in The Castleton, Monday noon, Ray Sprigle, veteran Pittsburgh newspaper man, who has been in the limelight in recent months for his expose of the rackets in Allegheny county, told about the development of the rackets there.

Gambling and racketeering in general can always be cleaned up if the police are conscientious, and the city and county administration is honest and aggressive. Racketeering could not exist without the cooperation of the mayor of any city, Mr. Sprigle stated, and when you see the mayors meeting in Washington, and coming forth with the statement that the only way you can clear up racketeering is by Federal Legislation, as you did recently, you can put it down as pure bunk.

Lawrence County Praised

Mr. Sprigle paid tribute to the effort being made in Lawrence county to clear things up, stating that gambling and racketeering are not as prevalent in Lawrence county as they are in surrounding counties, where some big-time operators are moving in. He stated that Beaver county is virtually wide open and that inroads are being made in Mercer county.

Westmoreland county, he stated, has one of the most corrupt governments of any county in the state. Here in Lawrence county, you have but one county detective for 100,000 people. Six honest county detectives could clear up Allegheny county in a similar manner, he stated. On the other hand, there are 40 county detectives in Allegheny county, who owe their jobs to the fact that they are on the inside with the political party in power there.

In Pittsburgh, he stated, members of the police department are appointed through the interest of the ward chairmen. He stated that he knew a lot of Pittsburgh policemen, and felt they were pretty fine fellows and would like to do their duty, but that their hands are tied by higher-ups in the city government. He stated that the police department there is at about the lowest ebb that it has been in his 40 years of experience as a Pittsburgh newspaper man. It is a purely political organization. County detectives are also selected in the same way that the police are. Years ago, appointments to the detective force were made from the police department from among men who had some experience in combatting crime. Now the appointees are men with no experience whatsoever, including bar tenders, truck drivers, pitch men, and the like.

If the good citizens of a community insist on clean government, they will get it, he asserted. However, if you sit idly by and let the racket boys move in, you will see some things you have never seen before. In some localities, he stated, the common pleas judges are a part and parcel of the political situation that exists in racket-ridden places, and he stated that he has seen racketeers sentenced to jail terms by judges, who then released them after they had served a few days of their sentence.

In conclusion, Mr. Sprigle gave those present an opportunity to ask questions, which many took advantage of.

Red Cross Chapter To Hold Meeting

John R. Preston, chairman has announced that the main items to be discussed are the chapter budget and finances.

Navy Will Give Competitive Tests To Officer Candidates

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26—(INS)—The navy announced that competitive tests for applicants for naval reserve officer training corps scholarships in 52 colleges and universities will be held December 9.

All male high school seniors and graduates are eligible to compete for the approximately 1,600 scholarships available. Successful applicants will be given regular four-year courses at one of the selected colleges, with tuition, books and other normal fees paid. In addition they will receive $50 a month pay.

They must attend naval ROTC drills and cruises and serve at least two years active duty upon graduation. Examinations are held in 550 cities throughout the United States, its territories and possessions. Application blanks and information are available from high school principals, college deans, navy recruiting offices and professors of naval science.

Volant Man Hurt In Auto Accident

Alfred Butch, aged 29 years, of Volant, was admitted to the Jameson Memorial hospital at 1:05 a. m. Sunday for treatment of injuries received when his car went off the highway and struck an embankment on route 158 between East Brook and Volant.

Examination at the hospital revealed injuries of the back and abrasions of the left thigh, forehead and face.

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHYLLIS BASTELLE

NEW YORK, Sept. 26—(INS)—There's style—as well as safety—in pins.

The newest fad for college and career girls is the safety-pin belt and bracelet set, to be worn with basic dresses, jumpers and sweater-skirt combinations.

It's a make-it-yourself accessory, which must be bought in a "pin kit."

The kit includes: Two buckles, more than 500 tarnish-proof gold pins, an instruction sheet on how to put them together, and a price tag reading $2.98.

The final costume piece has a casual link chain effect, with series of little pins connecting horizontally to big pins which form vertical links.
